Dick:

RE: Proposed outline for your remarks at the Fourth Joint Conference on Intelligence in Senior Professional Military Education
3 June 1991, 7:30 p.m.

STAT

You will be the keynote speaker at the conference following a 6:30 p.m. dinner. You are scheduled for 30 minutes of remarks. Mr. Dennis Nagy will follow with a 30-minute presentation, highlighting the role of military intelligence during the Gulf crisis. After a 15-minute break, both you and Mr. Nagy will respond to questions from the audience for about 30 minutes. The audience is cleared for Top Secret.

STAT

You are requested to address the topic "After the Storm: National Intelligence into the Future." We have prepared an outline that begins with the increasing need for cooperation between the military services and intelligence agencies. It then focuses on how the role of intelligence is changing and expanding in a number of areas: the Soviet Union and Eastern Europe, regional issues, narcotics and arms control. In some of these areas we also note the continuing counterintelligence challenges.

STAT

[redacted] is scheduled to speak on "The Lessons of National Intelligence Support Throughout the Crisis," at 8:30 a.m. on 4 June.

The proposed outline is attached. It is also provided on cards (opposite).
